 90-60cm: Problematic layer

Notes: Tapped ECT and Compression up to 30 without fail. Using a shovel to wedge the back of the column, we did get failure on the Compression and ECT columns at 90 cm above ground at the top of the 4F layer. For the compression test, the block sheared and popped out with a bit of energy. The ECT failed at exactly the same depth and propagated across the entire 1 meter wide column with little/no energy.
